Technisource Appoints Dino Grigorakakis to Vice President of Direct Hire Staffing

STRATEGIC HIRE TO LEAD DYNAMIC GROWTH IN DIRECT HIRE BUSINESS

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. - November 8, 2010 - Technisource, one of the largest technology services providers in North America, announces the addition of Dino Grigorakakis as vice president of direct hire staffing.

In this role, Grigorakakis will head and build a strong direct hire practice that will allow the company to take full advantage of the economic recovery.

“We are very proud to welcome Grigorakakis to our staff at Technisource,” said Michael Winwood, president of Technisource. We feel confident that he will provide the company the means to strategically build upon our new and existing direct-hire business and are excited that someone of Dino’s caliber is leading this critical initiative for Technisource.”

Dino comes to Technisource with 20 years of experience in the IT industry – the bulk being in IT staffing and direct hire sales for a major international recruiting firm. Most recently, he served as managing vice president of that company’s major accounts group, where he worked with a team of 35 vice presidents across North America and Europe. Responsibilities included: sales training, best practice implementation and sales growth for over 500 strategic accounts.

Previous to that, he was a district president, regional vice president (and several other senior leadership roles) managing revenue streams from $90M up to $180M. As part of the senior leadership team for that company, Dino was actively involved in building a direct hire business in excess of $200M.

Grigorakakis holds a bachelor of science in computer science from the University of Delaware in Newark, DE.
