Technisource Teams Up With Fast Food Giant To Digitize Menu Boards

Technisource meets demanding deadline of more than 3,200 installments in less than 10 weeks

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., May 31, 2011 – Technisource, one of the largest technology staffing and services providers in North America, today announced that the company completed technical and logistical support around installing more than 3,200 digital menu boards in locations across the country in less than 10 weeks for one of the world's largest fast food retailers.

Technisource was chosen for the company's ability to perform the complex installations in two to three different locations per team per day. Installation combined the unique skill sets of different teams to install fully dedicated electrical circuits, CAT5 data lines for the media player, deployment of 42 inch LCD monitors, mounting the media player itself and verifying the full connectivity and functionality of the system.

The new Digital Menu Boards allow the fast food pioneer to deploy real time pricing updates across all stores from a central location, eliminating the need for onsite interaction to adjust pricing or change of menu items. In addition, the retailer will reduce printing costs for marketing/advertisements on menu boards.

"Technisource was able to easily step in and deploy the full number of digital menu boards by the aggressive deadline stipulated," said Andrew Speer, vice president of Technisource. "By combining our flexible delivery model and interdisciplinary expertise, timelines were met, challenges overcome and the project was completed under budget and on time."
