Technisource Renews Technology Outsourcing Agreement with PrimeSource Foodservice Equipment, Inc. of Dallas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. - (March 28, 2007) - Technisource, a national information technology (IT) and engineering services provider, has renewed an IT outsourcing agreement with PrimeSource FoodService Equipment, Inc., a Dallas-based restaurant equipment supply company. PrimeSource is certified as a Minority Business Enterprise.

"Technisource specializes in helping outsource IT operations with some of the industry's most talented professionals," said John Baschab, president of Technisource Management Services. "Effective use of technology is an important part of PrimeSource's business. We have partnered with them to ensure that they have the right resources, technologies and processes in place. We are very pleased to have extended our relationship with such a progressive and forward-thinking company that is a standout among minority-owned businesses."

Technisource will continue to provide all internal IT services for PrimeSource - IT leadership, application development and support, operations and infrastructure and helpdesk.

"The PrimeSource service model leverages technology to drive efficiency and scalability for our foodservice clients," said Wes Blair, chief operating officer for PrimeSource. "Our IT infrastructure must be cost effective and reliable. We chose to renew our outsourcing agreement with Technisource based on their superior service and their alignment with our guiding principle of partnering for success."

About PrimeSource FoodService Equipment, Inc.
