Technisource Ranked Among North America's Top 500 Technology Integrators by Everything Channel

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla, June 28, 2010 - Technisource, one of the largest technology services providers in North America and a subsidiary of SFN Group, Inc. (NYSE: SFN), has been recognized by Everything Channel as one of North America's top technology integrators. Named to the prestigious VAR500 list, Technisource placed number 89 in the 16th annual ranking, moving up nine spots from the company's last appearance.

The 16th annual ranking VAR500 list details the leading producers among technology integrators and technology solution provider organizations in North America based on gross worldwide revenue of hardware and software sales, as well as earnings from professional and managed IT services. This year's list reflects the strength of the technology reseller channel as the ranking includes 182 new companies with four percent of the new entrants landing in the Top 100.

"We are honored to be included in this prestigious ranking once again," said Michael Winwood, president of Technisource. "Our main goal is providing clients with the world's best IT talent and offering the most flexible, most unique and most customer-focused delivery model for our IT solutions. "Our passion, flexible model and commitment to providing exactly what customers need have all led to our rising in the VAR500 list."

"The VAR 500 is the who's who of the solution provider community. Microsoft, HP, Cisco, Symantec among others are highly reliant on the VAR 500 to sell their products to businesses and collectively this audience generated more than $500B in sales in 2009. Even more importantly they solve customers' biggest IT business problems through product integration, training, consulting and services. In companies large and small, the VAR 500 are considered integration experts, trusted business advisors and invaluable partners. We are honored to compile this list and represent this audience," said Kelley Damore, VP, Editorial Director, Everything Channel.
